

B is for Bear

Assignment 16

LESSON 16

- Complete Lesson 16 in your B is for Bear textbook, volume 1.
- Complete Lesson 16 of your handwriting book.
- Students should write out Dictation 16, found at the bottom of the page. Parents should be writing misspelled words down on the dictation page and going over it.
- Memorize the last stanza of “Gathering Leaves” by Robert Frost.
- Here is a book recommendation: Chris Riddell. The Trouble with Elephants. Lippincott, 1988. A delightful book for young children, blurring the line between a child’s imagination and a real stuffed animal. Themes include acceptance and love.

EXERCISE A

He laid the package down.
We paid for the cabbage.
We did not damage the sail.
They took a voyage by sea, not the train.
The bird’s tail had red plumage.

EXERCISE B

The boss needs this package sent.
I will take the garbage out.
The bird in that tree has red plumage.
Did the rain damage the package?
Where did you read that adage?
