

Old-Style Alfreds

One hundred

alfred the great, son of ethelwulf and grandson of egbert, was the "darling" of english kings. he fought valiantly against the marauding danes and in his fight had to retreat to athelney island. when he regained control of the isle, he rebuilt england's educational system and constructed new and better buildings.

100

ALFRED THE GREAT, son of Ethelwulf and grandson of Egbert, was the "Darling" of English kings. He fought valiantly against the marauding Danes and in his fight had to retreat to Athelney Island. When he regained control of the isle, he rebuilt England's educational system and constructed new and better buildings.

20 JUNE, 2005

One Hundred

Alfred the Great, son of Ethelwulf and grandson of Egbert, was the 'darling' of the English kings. He fought valiantly against the marauding Danes and in his fight had to retreat to Athelney Island. When he regained control of the isle, he rebuilt England's educational system and constructed new and better buildings. One prize

2008-01-31
No. 77

ALFRED THE GREAT

Current Alfred (Series 400)

Alfred the Great

Alfred the Great, son of Ethelwulf and grandson of Egbert, was the "Darling" of English kings. He fought valiantly against the marauding Danes and in his fight had to retreat to Athelney Island. When he regained control of the isle, he rebuilt England's educational system and constructed new and better buildings.

One Hundred England's Darling King