

IDIOMS & COLLOCATIONS

Grammar 2: Usage Assignment 22

- Complete Test Chapter 21. You do not need to submit it to me.
- Did you notice that someone can say “I was hopping mad” but not “I was hopping irate,” though irate and mad mean the same thing colloquially? We combine certain words in speech naturally with no rules to govern why. These word groupings are called collocations. Complete Chapter 22 on idioms and collocations (except the test).
- Take test Unit 5 Test, Tests B and C. Please submit it to me by noon on Tuesday.
