

American History Assignment 18

- Read Chapter 21 of Abeka and closely look over the chapter review.
- Listen to William Jennings Bryan's Cross of Gold Speech. Cross of Gold Speech.
- Read Rutherford B. Hayes' Inauguration Speech (online under "Materials Needed"). Remember the situation in which he delivered the address—a difficult time shortly after the Civil War, when feelings of sectionalism were still strong. It had been a very close race between Democrats and Republicans, but the Republicans won (or did they?). A second Civil War seemed pending. Do we have any relatively modern election experiences similar this one?
- Watch the History Channel's short biography Rutherford B. Hayes.
- A flashback: Do you remember "Tippencanoe and Tyler, Too"—the campaign song for the Whig Party? And do you remember who Harrison and Tyler were running against? What war had they fought in that distinguished them?
- If you think that you might be taking the AP test, please remind your parents that I will not be signing you up for the AP test.
