

Drama, Writing and Speech

Assignment 24

- Now that you have your argument essay returned, choose the essay, make any emendations to transform it into a speech and email a WORD file of your revision to me before our next class. (Do not send a google docs file, please.) If you want send it earlier, I would be glad to receive it and grade it earlier as well so that you can begin memorizing the speech as soon as possible. We do not have many weeks before speech night!
- We now are beginning the dramatic monologue in our Drama, Writing and Speech course. Read the selected poems by Robert Browning and Longfellow's "Torquemada" and be ready to be quizzed on the content. Below is a picture of the master of the dramatic monolog, Robert Browning. Dramatic monologues combine elements of drama and poetry to create an engaging dramatic irony.
