Short Story and Novel Class

Assignment 9

- study guide and reading. Ready for satire? The reading this week includes satirical stories, specifically by Voltaire, Nikolai Gogol and Alexander Pushkin. Complete the study guide material found in Lesson 9 and read the accompanying stories in the anthology.
- book report book. Remember to continue reading your independent reading book.
- test. Prepare for a test on the material that we have covered so far on the second Friday of November. It will be twenty questions with a paragraph essay.

Long-range Assignments:

- your own story. Your story of realism, which will be due on the third week of December.
- test. Prepare for a test on the second Friday of November. The test will cover all of the stories of oral history, romance, realism and naturalism. The questions will be based on class lectures and the content of the stories read. Make sure that you are able to talk about the distinguishing characteristics of the genres read.
- book report book. Remember to continue reading your independent reading book.

A witty saying proves nothing. —Voltaire