

D is for Dandelion

Assignment 2

- Reading. Complete Lesson 2 of the D is for Dandelion textbook, volume 1. The reading will include “What is Her Name?” and “The Patient Cat.”
- Handwriting. Complete Lesson 1 of the D is for Dandelion handwriting book.
- Poetics. In poetics we reviewed the following terms: personification and pathetic fallacy. This week’s assignment is to memorize the second block of two stanzas of “The Fountain,” which appears in the appendix.
- Writing. There is no writing assignment this week; however, students should be prepared for one next week.
- Dictation. Here are the directions if you are unfamiliar with the method of using dictation for spelling, handwriting and punctuation:

Students write down (in their best handwriting) what the parent (or other) dictates. (The dictation sentences are written below.) Students can use lined paper or print out the paper that I have online. Before beginning the dictation, students should be reminded to begin every sentence with a capital. The dictation assumes that the student knows 1) the short and long vowel sounds and 2) the spelling of the words the, were, where and words with the ed suffix. Notice that each week there will be two sessions of dictation. Parents (or other) can correct after each sentence and repeat words, etc. for reinforcement, or they can correct the dictation after the complete session is finished. Students should rewrite the messed words about five to ten times on the dictation sheet.

EXERCISE A

1. Wake Wendy up.
2. The young man welcomed them.
3. His eyes were blue.
4. He caught a cold again.
5. The robber stole most of his robes.

EXERCISE B

1. The lake was lacking fish.
2. Sammy had the same idea for lunch.
3. Peter climbed the hill again.
4. Willy was wily.
5. Where had his plum gone?

Long Term Assignment

Complete one of the assignments under Composition 1 or Composition 2 of Lesson 1. This assignment will be due on the fourth Friday in September.